

HEAR THEM CRY

(written by Kenneth Cope)

There's a cry in the night
As another life begins
Tiny one pleads for love today
But by and by will his cry
Go unheard, turn inside?
Time can change us

There's a girl, lost her world
Life was cruel when she was ten
Broken home, all alone today
But who could tell with all her smiles?
Can wounds concealed be recognized?
Time can save us

CHORUS:

*Hear them cry the tears they hide
Love means time, hear them cry*

Eyes are wet by a bed
Where a heartbeat slips away
And all those years are just souvenirs today
The chance is passed, intentions fail
Tomorrow's gone like yesterday
Time escapes us

REPEAT CHORUS

Time keeps passing, passing by
Everyone's crying
Hear them cry

*...Hear them crying
Crying*
