

POWER

(written by Randy Kartchner & Kenneth Cope)

They make big show for the camera
Their chanting fills up the hall
Echoes of freedom and justice
They've every right after all

But when someone opposes
Do we see signs of a war
Does brotherhood bow in silence
And then make a run for the door
Mouth turns to muscle - push comes to shove
But what about love

CHORUS:

*Is love the power running you and me
Can you feel the power, the energy
Power*

We leave our homes every morning
And then live the day in the dark
Are we so blind we can't see what's happening here
Have we gone bad in the heart
Cold-blooded kindness is just not enough
There must be love

REPEAT CHORUS

*Love is the power running you and me
Can you feel the power, the energy*

© 1994 Paranoid Music (BMI) / Merge Right Music (BMI)