

STATUS QUO

(written by Randy Kartchner & Kenneth Cope)

Read – boys fight for power – war every hour
Read – oil in the water – earth is the martyr
Read – still dealing the powder – with death getting louder
Yeah read – mounting disaster – man is the master

Can we escape what lies in store?
This road that we take, can we take it much more?

CHORUS:

Woa, status quo – you're needin' alterations
Woa, status quo – a transformation

Wake up – they're looking for labor
But can't read the paper
Why, why, why – "big brother" to billions
But what of our children?

We're nearing too late – we're falling apart
Maybe lucky today – but luck runs just so far

REPEAT CHORUS

We're in overhead, and starting to sink
Right down the drain – where ruin and time meet

REPEAT CHORUS

Woa, status quo – modifications
Woa, status quo – a transformation
