

TRAIL OF TEARS

(written by Kenneth Cope)

Under heavens afire
Or wilderness skies
It's calling me
Calling me
Like an old trusted friend
Reeling me in
It keeps calling me
Calling me

Every jolt, every turn
While the blisters might burn
It's calling me
Calling me
As I wade through the curse
Afraid for the worst
It keeps calling me
Calling me

If I live—if I die
There's forever
Can't let fear cloud my life
Hide the splendor

CHORUS:

*Through the seasons of rain
And rocky terrain
One thing comes clear
As I widen my view
There are flowers in bloom
Lining my way
Along the trail of tears*

Though I'm stung by the grave
My heart about to break
It's calling me
Still calling me
From the falls to the rise
I'm in for the climb
'Cause joy's calling me
Calling me

If we live—if we die
There's forever
Every smile has its price
Come surrender

REPEAT CHORUS
