

YOU'LL BE THERE

(written by Randy Kartchner & Kenneth Cope)

You've been away so long
I've been trying to love again
Faces come and gone
But no power to move this man

And I won't lie anymore
Remembering is hard on starting over
No I can't hide it anymore
Every morning you're still with me
And morning's not the end

CHORUS:

*You'll be there in the afternoon
You'll be there when the night comes calling
I can't forget all I had with you
No matter where, if I'm breathing
You'll be there*

I've been a fool too long
No illusion could bring you back
But something right gone wrong
Has me living in the past

And I can't fight it anymore
The memory has all but taken over
Why, oh, why I try anymore
Every morning you're there waiting
And morning's here again

REPEAT CHORUS

Love can last beyond the years
But our years are gone
And all I've left are souvenirs
While today drags on - on and on

© 1994 Paranoid Music (BMI) / Merge Right Music (BMI)